San Francisco, the Fearful Earthquake And Fire.

The following interesting letter was given us by Dr. J. F. Peyton, with permission to print, which we do most cheerfully:

BERKELEY, CAL., May 10, 1906.
MY DEAR FOLKS.—The task of writing to our various kinsfolk in almost every State is such an endless one that I have decided, much to "Honey's" amusement, to write a circular letter about our unparalleled calamity. We have all been so busy in taking care of the "refugees," general relief work and rehabilitating our disorganized affairs that this is my first spare time.

At 5:13 A. M., on April 18, the population of the Coast section of Northern California was aroused by a most severe earthquake, designated by our eminent scientists as the No. 9 (they also say that a No. 10 is a rating given the most terrific ones and these are "all destroying.") Like cyclones, it seemed to go in waves and was apparently most severe in the northern part of Sonoma county, 60 miles to the north of San Francisco, taking in the beautiful towns of Santa Rosa, Sebastopol, etc., leaving almost unharmed San Rafael, Petaluma, Belvedere, Sausalito, Ross Valley and all of the northern suburbs and giving a severe shaking to San Francisco, with its side currents effecting Oakland, some portions of Berkeley, the hills and ranges to our east and some of the smaller, inferior towns more or less severely. The entire peninsula, extending south from San Francisco to San Jose was treated alike and even as far south as Gilroy, Selinas and San Luis Obispo, 150 miles, more or less, destruction took place. The quake was felt over a territory 800 miles long by 150 to 200 miles wide, although the destructive effect was practically confined to a section 200 miles long by not exceeding 25 miles in width. In our own little town of Berkeley, our State University buildings were comparatively unharmed, although we had a good many buildings wrecked, including our High School building and probably 75 per cent. of our chimneys were ruined or injured.

In Oakland the loss was greater, while in Santa Rosa and San Jose the entire business sections were laid flat. The State Insane Asylum at "Agnew's," a few miles out from San Jose was totally destroyed and a few miles further north our beloved Stanford University was given a cruel and vital blow and her magnificent Memorial Chapel and famous "Quad" are a mass of ruins. San Francisco was sorely smitten by the shake but would have soon outgrown it had it not been for the fire fiend who grasped the disabled monarch and raged and ate and gorged until the vitals were all but gone, then stopped and sulked. How helpless man was, with the water mains destroyed and broken, was demonstrated, and how thoroughly impossible it is for man to describe the awful minutes, hours, days and nights is indescribable.

Four hundred and fifty blocks from the very vitals of a modern city, with all that that implies, licked up and destroyed as rapidly as the flames could spread, a seething cauldron of hell on earth was there—almost 200 miles of buildings, some of which would do credit to the world's busiest marts, some of which housed treasures, curios and trophies, of which poets have written and which represented the life work of artists, historians and masters—all on an equal level—was food for the fierce and heartless flames and the unique city by the Golden Gate was left a charred, shattered, helpless wreck from a material standpoint, but her people—frightened, stunned and almost helpless, reassured and encouraged by the beautiful, spontaneous and universal response of their fellows from every land, have regathered their courage, have seen reborn the star of hope and are as one, united to rebuild better and more beautiful than before. Many of our treasured peculiarities are doubtless gone, never to be the same. Chinatown, the notorious and unique, is but a memory, many of the old landmarks have been swept away, the "Cable" Railroad—which only 25 years ago had its inception and birth on Sacramento Street, will probably never be rehabilitated, except for possibly short grades and rare connections. Fortunately our water front, including docks, ferries and ships were practically uninjured and the terminals of all our railroads were left unharmed so that reconstruction could begin at once. Of course a large portion of the city's population has been scattered and some will probably never return; but we have left a strong, ambitious and determined force that will challenge the admiration of the growing generation and we will again grow to take our place in the front ranks of progress and commercialism.

The loss of life will probably never be accurately determined, and while the actual statistics will not record exceeding 600 in the entire stricken territory, there will, we fear, be many unanswered calls and pleadings for dear ones, of whom no trace can be found since the fateful morning.

Our immediate family was unharmed and with but one or two exceptions our friends were spared, but there are many who will have to look back on the scene with a memory that all that can be done will not obliterate.

For all of the sweet words of love and sympathy that you have sent us our hearts are overflowing with responsive feelings, but as well to the thousands and millions of good souls who have responded in loving thoughts and in kind words as well as with the "widow's mite," our gratitude is unbounded and uncurbed.

Yours lovingly,

P. W. ROCHESTER.

Gov. Beckham and the Sunday Saloon.

It took courage for Governor Beckham to demand the closing of the saloons in Louisville on Sunday, for the reason that the saloon keeper has practically controlled politics in Louisville for some time and the Governor is a candidate. Many a man in Governor Beckham's position would have said to the gentlemen who called on him about Sunday closing that it was the duty of the Mayor and other authorities in the city to enforce the law and that he did not think it was incumbent upon him to meddle with affairs in Louisville of this kind. The Governor did not evade this way. He knew it was his duty to see that all laws in the Commonwealth were enforced and he knew that there is no plainer law than prohibiting the sale of liquor on Sunday. He had the courage of his convictions. He preferred being right to being Senator and in our opinion he has never done anything which will help to make him Senator like closing the Sunday saloon in Louisville. It will draw men to him who like moral courage and it will draw good people to him who stand for the enforcement of all law.

The fight has just begun however, but we believe that the Governor will see it through. He will find that he will have to fight the gamblers as well as the saloon keepers. He will also have to fight every man who is afraid of these elements in business and in politics; "thrice armed is he who has his quarrel just." The News proposes to stand behind Governor Beckham in this matter and the News is somewhat of a scrapper when there is an issue involved that affects the welfare of the people.—Elizabethtown News.

Senator Morgan, speaking on the Panama canal resolution, said there had been an abuse of power by the President in the zone. No member of Congress, he said, would dare introduce a bill for a law to carry out what the President had done.

NEWS NOTES.

By mutual concessions the strike in the Illinois coal mines was settled and 55,000 men will return to work.

Another portion of the main crater of Vesuvius collapsed and peasants fled in terror, but no further danger is feared. Capt. Benjamin D. Terry, a Confederate veteran and one of Trigg county's most prominent citizens, died at Cadiz. Richard Robertson, 26 years old, and Miss Hattie Royce, aged 19, were struck and instantly killed by a train at Pawpaw, W. Va.

Officials of the Southern Railway deny the report of a merger of their road with the Monon and the Queen and Crescent.

Building operations in San Francisco have received a decided setback, owing to the failure of underwriters to advance insurance funds.

Judge Owen Thompson resigned as trustee of the Illinois Woman's College because of the acceptance of $25,000 from Andrew Carnegie.

It is probable that the electric road from Lexington to Georgetown will be extended from Georgetown to Owenton, the county seat of Owen county.

Seventeen persons were injured, one fatally, in Cincinnati when the storage tank of an automobile exploded following a collision with two street cars.

Logan Powell, a farmer, living near Owensboro, may die from the bite of a copperhead snake which attacked him while he was pulling tobacco plants.

The north part of the main cone of Mount Vesuvius continues its explosions and an eruption of ashes which has extended to Capri and Sorrento.

A dispatch from Cripple Creek, Col., says that Frank Palmer, said to be the original "Deadwood Dick" of dime-novel fame, died in the county hospital there.

John F. Stevens, chief engineer of the Isthmian Canal Commission, says he has no fear of a serious revolution in Panama. He says the country must decide at once what style canal shall be dug.

John Butcher was killed in a rock quarry near Bloomington, Ind. A blast drove two sections of a large rock apart. Butcher put his head in the crevice and the rocks closed together crushing his skull like an egg shell.

Simon Castlen, supposed to have been killed in a railroad wreck near Owensboro two years ago, reached Owensboro in good health Wednesday. His wife has married again and a suit is pending to collect a policy of $2,000 carried on his life.

John E. Madden has sued Louis V. Bell, Albert Simmons and Laura Simmons for $50,000, for alleged conspiracy to injure him in his domestic relations. He charges that stories circulated by the defendants caused Mrs. Madden to sue for separation.

David Rankin, a St. Louis millionaire, will give $2,000,000 to found an industrial school at St. Louis for the children of people in moderate circumstances. The object will be to fit the youth of the city to work intelligently with their hands without first serving an apprenticeship at meagre wages.

The Very Best Remedy for Bowel Trouble.

Mr. M. F. Borrowoughs, an old and well-known resident of Bluffton, Ind., says: "I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as the very best remedy for bowel trouble. I make this statement after having used the remedy in my family for several years. I am never without it." This remedy is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over. Why not buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency? For sale by W. N. Craig, the popular druggist, Stanford.

England is a land saturated with flunkies, a land where a man born in ordinary circumstances expects and is expected to die in ordinary circumstances; where the scope of the individual's effort is too largely traced beforehand by the accident of social position; where a man is handicapped in all cases and crushed in most by the superincumbent weight of caste privileges, "good form" and the deadening artificialities of an old society.—Outlook.

How to Break Up a Cold.

It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, and a thin, white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour on the first appearance of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by W. N. Craig, the popular druggist, Stanford.

HUSTONVILLE.

Rev. S. B. Lander's subject Sunday morning: "I Shall be Satisfied." Evening: "God's Night Visits."

Jeff Austin, of Mt. Salem, was severely injured by having a nail run through his finger which he had driven into the hoof of an unruly horse he was shoeing.

Miss Folsom McGuire, one of the graduates of our graded school, has gone to visit her brother at Elkchester. Miss Dora Debaun, of Perryville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. G. W. Mills. Mr. Ed Stagg, a "West Ender" for 40 years, but now a resident of Marion, is being given a cordial welcome by his host of friends here.

Horace Bohon is at home for a few days' rest from the toils of a successful commercial traveler. George W. Gadberry, of Phil, a veteran of the Civil war, and father of John W., the merchant prince of Casey, passed into the great beyond last Tuesday and was buried at Middleburg Wednesday under the auspices of the G. A. R., of which he was a member.

The board of education of our graded school has bought Christian College and grounds from Mrs. B. J. Pinkerton through her agent, T. J. Robinson, for $4,750. They will float bonds bearing 6 per cent. interest for $4,000 and will be given possession Sept. 1. Our school is a grand success under the efficient principalship of Prof. R. S. Eubank, whom the community admires and desires to retain.

The baccalaureate sermon by Rev. S. B. Lander, the subject of which was "Vision Hours," delivered to the graduating class, is receiving much favorable comment. So filled was it with beautiful ideas, scientifically expressed of life's journey from the cradle to the grave that it made a most profound impression upon his hearers and stamped the young author as able to march onward and upward until the pedestal of fame is reached.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nance, well and favorable known for years in the West End, passed into the great beyond from which none ever return, on the 24th, in the 61st year of her age and was buried in Buffalo cemetery Friday. She was a consistent member of the Turnersville Christian church at Turnersville. Her sons and friends desire to return thanks to their friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and continuous aid to alleviate their suffering mother.

Algorn's Opera House held an audience of 400 on Friday night to hear the address of Dr. J. C. Willis to the graduating class of our graded school. The doctor is a most pleasing speaker and he held the large audience spell-bound for an hour upon the "Meaning of an Education." The word picture was sublime but not overdrawn. The presentation of diplomas by the president of the board of education, Chas. Wheeler, was neatly done in a beautiful little talk. The musical renditions by Miss Angie Carpenter were appreciated by the lovers and students of the technical touch, with which Miss Angie is endowed.

At the meeting of our fair association Saturday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W. Gill Cowan, president; J. B. Honaker, first vice president; Judge Wm. Myers, second vice president; F. F. Sandidge, third vice president; S. M. Owens, secretary; J. Roy Rose, assistant secretary; J. H. Hocker, treasurer. The determination of the officials to make the coming exhibit the grandest success on a more elaborate scale, eclipsing all former efforts not only here but in the county, will give an impetus far reaching and undoubtedly assures a patronage well deserved and will be numbered by the thousand.

There is a prevalent atmosphere here of advancement and general progress in everything we face. Each business house, work shop, student, professor and farmer seem determined to excel the others in their respective lines. Each building erected and each horse-man evidences the same spirit. Our merchants are getting trade from territory 15 to 20 miles from here and from within limits of cities that have a population of almost 10 times that of ours. But it is not the large population; it is the up-to-date merchant with stocks suited to the trade. No high rent or city taxes; so therefore we can undersell competitors and the people are not slow to catch on.

never follows an injury dressed with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Its antiseptic and healing properties prevent blood poisoning. Chas. Oswald, merchant, of Rensselaersville, N. ### HON. R. W. MILLER.

of Madison county, is a candidate to represent the Eighth Congressional district of Kentucky in Congress, to succeed Hon. G. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

M. F. NORTH.

Is a candidate for Representative of Lincoln county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

THE G. A. R.'s in some of the States are considering a proposition to set aside the last Sunday in May as Memorial day instead of the 30th. It is claimed by many that the change is demanded in view of the manner in which the vital purpose of Memorial day has been obscured. When the holiday falls upon a week day it is almost exclusively given to sports and pleasures and scarcely a thought is given of the heroes of the civil war, living or dead. To establish a Sunday for the annual observance would tend to do away with the present manner of celebration. The day would, it is claimed, be given over more particularly to the old soldiers and to those who are sincerely moved to take the time to honor the men who fought to preserve their country. Many of the games and outdoor pastimes which are now indulged in would necessarily have to be abandoned. The proposition would meet with general favor.

HON. R. W. MILLER, of Madison county, has formally announced as a candidate for the democratic nomination for Congress in the Eighth district. He served four years in the General Assembly and has been prominent in politics in his home county for years. He is a brilliant young man and a magnetic speaker.

MASSACHUSETTS has a new law that tramps must be put to work after a thorough bath. The result is that the number visiting that State has decreased 75 per cent. in a year. Kentucky might try the plan with profit. There is nothing that goes so against the grain of the average tramp as water and work.

CONGRESSMAN BURLISON, of Texas, made a hit when he said: "The way to revise the tariff is to revise Congress." The people are getting to that point very rapidly, and unless all signs fail they will begin by electing a majority of the Lower House of Congress this fall.

It is said that the Standard Oil Company has 125 newspapers in Ohio subsidized. In what other State could this be said of its newspapers? Poor as most Kentucky newspaper men are, neither Rockefeller nor his agents could approach them with a bribe.

For a woman to advocate suffrage for her sex, and devote her life to its accomplishment, seems to be conducive to long life. Julia Ward Howe survives at 87, while Mrs. Stanton, Mrs. Livermore and Miss Anthony died at ages much above four-score.

A MAINE newspaper says that State is growing more young men to be drunkards than ever before in her history, and yet the lid is always on there. Where do they get their liquor? Maine is an original prohibition State.

POLITICAL.

The Sundry Civil Bill, containing appropriations of about $95,000,000, was reported to Congress.

Official announcement was made by Chief Justice Fuller of the approaching retirement of Justice Brown from the Supreme Court.

A special session of the Delaware Legislature, to consider tax matters and to ballot for United States Senator, has been called by Gov. Lea.

Members of the House Committee on Appropriations have been surprised to learn that the appropriation of $1,500,000 for the new building for the Department of Agriculture has been exhausted and only two wings of the structure have been completed.

Democrats of Spencer county, Ind., nominated a full ticket, each candidate being pledged not to use any money except for legitimate purposes, during the campaign. Not only were they pledged not to buy votes but they also must not lend money to influence voters.

Gov. Beckham appointed Theodore G. Lewis, of Hyden, Leslie county, Judge of the Thirty-second judicial district, created by act of the General Assembly at the last regular session. The counties of the district are Leslie, Letcher, Owsley and Perry, and the appointment is until the November, 1907, election.

Gov. Beckham appointed James D. Cain, of Laurel county, assistant Mine Inspector for the Eastern Kentucky district, under the new law. The place pays $1,200. The governor appointed the following special judges: J. R. Sampson, of Pineville, special judge of the Bell Circuit Court; Jeff C. Johnson, of Greenville, special judge of Logan Circuit Court; and J. N. Saunders, of this place, special judge of Laurel Circuit Court.

The Senate after an extended discussion passed the Post-office Appropriation Bill.

Congressman South Trimble has announced that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself, but on the contrary will seek the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

The Democratic Committee for the Fourth Congressional and Third Appellate districts nominated Ben Johnson, of Nelson county, for Congress, and Judge J. P. Hobson for appellate judge.

Gov. Beckham announced the Boards of Regents which will control the two State Normal Schools: Eastern District—Senator J. W. Cammack, of Owen, Phil W. Grinstead, of Lexington, Jere A. Sullivan, of Richmond, and Fred A. Vaughan, of Johnson. Western District—J. Whitte Potter, of Bowling Green; E. H. Mark, of Louisville; Representative Henry C. Miller, of Elizabethtown, and Representative H. K. Cole, of Owensboro. State Superintendent Fuqua is, by virtue of his office, chairman ex-officio of the two boards. Immediately following the announcement of the appointments by the Governor. Supt. Fuqua called the regents to assemble at Frankfort Saturday for the purpose of organizing for the work before them.

An Explanation From Prof. Bell.

HARRISBURG, May 29.—Last Monday's Courier Journal in giving an account of the Blue Grass Graded School Tournament credited Frank Shannon, Mt. Sterling, with winning the 100 yard dash. The matter needs an explanation. I announced from the stage at Thursday evening's performance that the athletics would be held at the fair grounds Saturday at 9 A. M. There were a number of Springfield people present who could not remain and upon their request I consented to have the 50 and 100 yard dash after the ball game Friday afternoon. The announcement was not sufficiently circulated and some of the runners were not present, among the number Beverly Rout, of Stanford. Then too, there were some little irregularities and all taken together made it, as I thought, advisable to call the race off and run again Saturday morning. This was naturally unsatisfactory to the winners, so in order "to keep down harmony," as a politician remarked to Judge Saufley, I decided to give the winner a medal and let the others run again Saturday for the regularly announced prize. The race was run on Main Street in the presence of an immense crowd and Beverly Rout "won in a walk." Mr. Rout is a sprinter and certainly entitled to the honor. He was not notified of the race Friday or he would have been there. While I do not want to rob Mr. Shannon of any of the fruits of victory, I must in justice to all parties state that I consider the race Saturday the bona fide one. Yet one can hardly blame Shannon for holding on to a medal already won.

Before closing I desire to say a word regarding Prof. Ireland and his pupils. This was their first year in the tournament and they should have counted themselves lucky to win three or four prizes. But they won 13—eight first and five seconds. They had only 12 pupils entered and when that is taken into consideration they not only had the smallest delegation, but their record is the most remarkable one made by any school since the tournament was organized 11 years ago. Prof. Ireland has every reason to be proud of them; he is not to be censured if he gets a little "chesty" and all Stanford should feel proud of him, his pupils and the school. They not only have brains but they are a well behaved lot. Sincerely, CHAS. W. BELL, President Tournament.

Roy Whittaker, living near Somerset, was killed by unknown parties as he was returning from church Sunday night. Two young men of the neighborhood are suspected but no arrests have been made.

Judgment of the Boyle Circuit Court in a damage case of the Western Union Telegraph Company against John W. Holtby was reversed by the court of appeals and sent back for new trial under instructions. Holtby, a lineman in the employ of the company, was injured by a fall from a pole. The question of negligence is to be tried out upon the return of the case to the lower court.

DORSEY GOLDDUST, 12052.

Full Brother to Estelle, 219 1-4.

Sired by Zilcadi Goldust 4400, by Goldust 150, and he by Vermont Morgan. (Dorsey Goldust's grand dam on sire's side was by the Imp. Arabian Stallion Zilcadi.) His dam is Florence, by Golden Mingo Chief, a son of Gaff's Morgan, making him intensely inbred Morgan stallion, descending from Justen Morgan on both sides. The best family of road horses ever known. Dorsey Goldust is a dark dappled bay, full 16 hands and weighs 1,200 pounds; a proven and uniform breeder of high-class road and Eastern horses, combining all the qualities for saddle and harness and are in demand at top prices. Both the champion saddle and combined gelding of the American Horse Shows of 1904-5, Jack O'Diamonds stands to his credit. Ten of his colts sold recently for $10,250 and $1,500 was refused for a walk-trot mare by him. His services are offered for less than any horse of his producing qualities in Kentucky. Will stand at my farm, 2½ miles from Stanford on the Hustonville pike at $20 to insure a living colt.

His colts have gone against and defeated the best in the harness classes, and roadster rings, one of his colts having won a $75 premium at the Hustonville fair over the best. Comment is unnecessary, as he is so well known, having made all of his seasons at my place, 12 in all.

Galton will stand at my stable, 2 miles west of Hustonville, on Bradfordville pike, at $10 to insure a living colt. Money due if mare is traded after being bred. Grass after May 1st at $2.50 per month. Phone in residence.

TESTIMONIAL!

This is to certify that the Country Hydrant Co. water plant inaugurated in my house last Fall by S. H. Aldridge, the tinner and plumber, of Stanford, has given good service. I would not be without one of the kind for several times its cost. My family enjoy this improvement as much or more than our indispensable phone. This system is in every particular an up-to-date plant. So simple and useful fresh water can be had in short order all through house from cistern at all hours. Ask Mr. Aldridge, the plumber, for a catalogue and read up on this wonderful time and labor saving way of living. You can pump up enough air in a few minutes to supply water for an ordinary size family all day. Think of it, both cold or hot water.

THE funeral of Howard D. Coleman, who was killed in the wreck in Louisville Monday morning, was conducted at his late home on East Main Street by Rev. W. E. Arnold, of Flemingsburg, assisted by Rev. P. J. Ross, of this place, Wednesday afternoon. The services were most appropriate and impressive and an immense crowd gathered to pay their respect to the popular young man, whose life was taken when he was so full of youth and promise. The procession to the grave was one of the longest seen here in years and beautiful flowers in profusion were sent by friends who admired the excellent young man and who deeply sympathize with the parents and other members of the family in their irreparable loss. Mr. Coleman's death is indeed a sad one and is proof of the quotation that "in the midst of life we are in death." A number of friends from a distance attended the burial, including Messrs. George Land, of Lexington, F. J. Reinicke and G. T. Rider, of Louisville, J. W. Newland, I. L. Griffy, W. J. Howard and J. C. Ritchie, East Bernstadt, and others mentioned in our personal column.

THE following from the Courier-Journal, in its write-up of the fearful wreck of Monday morning, shows the magnanimity of Mr. George B. Cooper, of this place, whose sufferings at the time must have been intense beyond description: "One man was carried out of the debris with a broken leg and laid out on the grass plat nearby to await attention from the physicians as soon as some should come. All around him were others, whose piteous appeals and groans of agony were heartrending. Finally physicians began to reach the scene, and one approached the prostrate man, one of whose legs was broken. Bending over the man, the doctor began to take out his bandages, when his patient, who had borne his intense sufferings in stolid silence, waved him away. 'Don't bother with me, doctor,' he said. 'Attend to some of those over there. My leg is broken, but the others are worse hurt than I. Fix them up first, and then you can come back and tie me up.' This man proved to be clever 'Thompsy' Cooper and it splendidly describes the manner of man he is. Thought of self never enters his mind when others are in trouble and it puzzles us to know why so kind and good a man should be so unfortunate as Mr. Cooper has been in the last few years. He is still in the Deaconess Hospital, Louisville, and his doctors say he is doing fully as well as they could wish. His left foot was amputated above the ankle and while he will be a cripple for life his friends are thankful that matters are no worse.

Unknown Friends.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. It is a good medicine to have in the home and is widely known for its cures of diarrhoea and all forms of bowel trouble. For sale by W. N. Craig, the popular druggist, Stanford.
